

Zela, Sami Fiul's Cousin, With Her Family

This is a photo of my mother's, Dorina Fiul, nieces, Zela, together with her husband, Moise, and her daughter, Feiga. Zela was the daughter of Berl Herscovici, one of my mother's brothers. Zela got married to a Jew, Moise, but unfortunately I don't remember his last name: I do know however that he was a confectioner, and that she helped him in the store where he worked. What is interesting about him is that his father had been a Christian who converted to Judaism. They all left for Israel in 1946/7, and they settled in Haifa. That is where Zela died, in 1976 or 1977. Only after a long time, I got in touch, on the phone, with Feiga, their daughter, but that is all I know about them.
