

Rachel Persitz's Cousin Zyunia Podoxis

My cousin, Zyunia Podoxis, Aunt Zlata's son. The photo was taken on his 16th birthday in 1946 in Kiev. My mother's sister, Zlata Podoxis, became a widow during World War II. Her husband perished at the front. He was a tailor before the war. They lived in Chernobyl. During the war Zlata and her son Zyunia were in evacuation. In the early 1970s Zlata, her son and his family moved to America. She died there shortly afterwards. Zyunia lives in Philadelphia now.
