

Korina Solomonova's Class Portrait

This is a photo of my class when I was in the last grade in high school in Sliven. It was taken in 1943. I am the second from the right in the second row. Next to me, on the right there is Penka, a Bulgarian girl who was a very good friend of mine. On my other side is Shtilyana, who was also a good friend of mine. She was a member of the Union of Young Workers like me. After finishing school she was a sales assistant in a music store.